

M1621
P375
V6
1821x

The Voice of her I love,

Sung by Mr. Braham

Written and Arranged for the

PIANO FORTE

BY

JOHN PARRY.

Philadelphia, Published by G.E. BLAKE N<sup>o</sup> 13 south 5th street.

HARP OR PIANO FORTE.

ANDANTE. p

How sweet at close of si = lent eve, The

p

Harp's respon = sive sound; How sweet the vows that ne'er deceive, And

Note. The small Notes in the Bass to be played when the second line is omitted.

deeds by vir = tue crowned. How sweet to sit be = neath a tree, In some de = light = ful grove = = ; But ah! more soft, more sweet to me, The voice of her I love.

— 2 —

Whene'er she joins the Village train,
 To hail the new born day;
 Mellifluous notes compose each strain,
 Which Zephyrs waft away.
 The frowns of fate I calmly bear,
 In humble sphere I move,
 Content and blest, whene'er I hear
 The voice of her I love.

